RECORD-BREAKING VOTE IS SEEN

RESTRAINED BY A POLICEMAN and a detective, Thomas Breen, 18, screams between sobs, "I'll kill 'em," after being routed from a Philadelphia cellar by tear gas. The youth fired more than a dozen wild shots at eight members of his family and police, and then barricaded himself in his hideout for three hours. No one was injured. Police blamed the outburst on drinking and a quarrel with his father. (International)

Here Are Data For Armchair, Dopester Eyeing Poll Returns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—While no one can predict how the presidential election will come out, there are various patterns which will help the layman determine trends.

Election specialists here, discussing those patterns, say that "on paper" Gov. Adlai Stevenson has the easiest job of winning the presidency. They indicate it may take a tide to sweep Gen. Dwight Eisenhower into the White House.

Here are the main things to remember, they say, in acting as an armchair specialist when the results start coming in Tuesday night:

First, Eisenhower, to win, must gain the big-vote states in the North, unless he wins by a landslide. If it is touch-and-go, Ike must take California and New York, or Pennsylvania and New York, or California and Pennsylvania.

For Stevenson, he needs most of the border and Southern states plus California and Illinois, or the South plus New York and scattered states, or the South plus California and scattered states.

AS FOR THE individual states, the experts say to look for these tips:

In New York, Stevenson needs at least 500,000 in New York City. If Ike runs strong upstate, Adlai is a gonner in the Empire State.

In California, if Adlai shows a persistent lead, Ike is in trouble

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

It is a little late for praying mantis but at least 100 of the odd insects hatched out right here in the Record-Herald office Monday and were scampering about the place promiscuously when discovered.

I first noticed one of them crawling on the floor and recognized it instantly as a small praying mantis.

Then I started a search to find the egg sack that I knew must have been deposited in the office by a praying mantis that had been left for identification and had escaped without being noticed.

I finally located the egg bag fastened securely on the wire guard of an electric heater which had been placed between my desk and a radiator.

The egg bag was about 1/4 inches long and one inch in diameter. Fully 100 of the little insects had hatched from the egg-bag their incubation having been induced by heat from the radiator, and the little fellows had crawled out and started looking for food, not knowing that they had arrived about six months too soon to survive.

Some spray and a mop were used in ridding the office of as many of the mantis as could be located. However, I expect to see stray ones crawling about for several days until they perish for lack of sustenance.

Oratorical Guns Cease Booming; Campaign Ends

Final Pleas Made For Voters' Support By Ike And Adlai

By The Associated Press Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson Tuesday were awaiting the decision of a nation.

The oratorical guns that have been booming across the land for many months are silent now. The political sword-play is finished. The campaign is over.

Ike and Adlai made their final statements to voters Monday night. In his address, Eisenhower made an appeal for a mandate from the American people to take his "crusade" into the White House. Peace, he said, is "the dearest measure in the sight of free men," and he placed it at the head of his objectives if he is elected.

His speech was a kind of creed. He reminisced briefly over the 40 years that lie between the "small white frame house in the little town of Abilene, Kan., and the present. He asked what these years taught him.

The Democratic candidate's final speech was in its total effect, a call to forget the bitterness and the strife and the name-calling of the presidential campaign and to believe in the winner, whoever he might be.

HE APPEALED to the people to close their ears to the "cowardly voices of hate and fear and suspicion" and to believe and trust in each other.

And he said: "If your decision is Gen. Eisenhower and the Republican Party, I shall ask everyone who voted for me to accept the verdict with traditional American sportsmanship. If you select me, I shall ask the same of the Republicans, and I shall ask our Lord to make me an instrument of his peace."

Stevenson said: "The end has now come, the cheers and jeers, the tumult and the shouting are almost over, and these are the last words I shall speak to you before the balloting begins.

Connecticut is known as "pendulum" state. Democrats have two Senate seats at stake. If GOP runs ahead, it's a sign of trouble for Democrats everywhere.

Iowa is a symbol of the farm vote. If Ike goes strong in rural areas, it is a sign that the farmer has switched to GOP.

Minnesota, which has gone Democratic the last four presidential elections, may show national trend. If it goes for Ike, the Democrats have been shoved away from the field.

Missouri, Montana and Idaho have picked the winner consistently in the last 12 presidential elections, starting in 1904. Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada have been "right" since 1912.

UN Soldiers Hurl Back Red Predawn Jabs

SEOUL, Nov. 4—Dug-in Alied soldiers Tuesday hurled back predawn Red assaults on the Korean eastern and central fronts.

North Korean Communists launched six attacks in the Heartbreak Ridge sector. Each was stopped cold despite unusually heavy Red artillery fire.

Chinese Reds on the central front stormed all night long at South Korean positions atop bloody Sniper Ridge. The Reds beat back the Red assault at dawn.

The U. S. Eighth Army said Sniper and nearby Triangle Hill were quiet Tuesday than at any time since the Allies launched their central front attack Oct. 14.

The mercury dipped to a bone-chilling one degree above zero.

American soldiers huddled around their radios for the latest news of the U. S. presidential elections. Most interested listener was Maj. John Eisenhower, son of the Republican candidate.

A battalion of North Koreans—about 750 men—powered the biggest Red attack on the mountainous eastern front. The Reds slammed straight at Heartbreak Ridge. Allied infantrymen, fighting from trenches and bunkers, stopped the assault cold in a three-hour battle.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Nov. 4—Robert Blackford of Jacksonville, O., an airman stationed at the Great Falls Air Base, was killed in an automobile accident south of here Sunday.

Biggest Vote in History Expected Here; GOP Victory Is Predicted for County

Voters of Washington C. H. and Fayette County started flocking to the polls early on this "day of decision" as the climax to a campaign that has building up steam for more than two months.

Political observers here have estimated that the total vote here would probably set a new record. Some predicted it might go as high as 12,000 or even 13,000. Others, however, were more conservative in their estimates, but thought the vote still would be the biggest ever.

Just as a sample of the way the voting was going, 101 ballots had been cast in precinct C of the third ward by noon. Precinct workers could not recall how that compared with the morning vote there in the 1948 election, but they expressed the belief it was an increase. They also were predicting that 250 votes would be cast before the polls close at 6:30 P. M. Four years ago the total was 212. Seventeen of the ballots this year were by absent, disabled or military voters.

Precinct C of the third ward takes in that section bounded roughly by Paint Street on the south, North Street on the west, the B&O Railroad on the north and the city limits on the east.

ON TUESDAY, about 10 A. M., at the Fayette County Board of Elections office, three members of the board present and Harold McLean, the clerk, joined in a general agreement that the vote would probably be between 12,000 and 13,000. This was based on estimates from various precincts heard on the vote already cast up to that time.

Previously the largest vote in the county, based on records available, was in 1940 when the total vote for president showed 11,231, with 5,982 cast for Wendell Willkie, R, and 5,249 for Franklin D. Roosevelt, D. It was estimated that approximately 11,500 ballots were cast, some not voting for president.

There are three candidates for the two vacant seats on the board of county commissioners. Two are Republicans, Ralph Minton, seeking reelection, and Robert Cockerill. One, Hazel Moyer, is a Democrat.

Rep. Virgil Perrill, Fayette County's present representative to the state Legislature, is unopposed.

While little interest has been shown in the campaign for state offices, the tussle between Gov. Frank J. Lausche, the Democratic incumbent, and Charles P. Taft, a Republican, for the governorship is the exception.

An odd sidelight on the campaign has been provided by the mock elections held in the city and the publican of Portsmouth, for representative to Congress from this, the sixth district, as on the tug-of-war between Eisenhower, a Republican, and Adlai Stevenson, a Democrat, for the presidency.

Rep. Virgil Perrill, Fayette County's present representative to the state Legislature, is unopposed.

While little interest has been shown in the campaign for state offices, the tussle between Gov. Frank J. Lausche, the Democratic incumbent, and Charles P. Taft, a Republican, for the governorship is the exception.

Besides, the rural precincts are expected to feel the pressure from the proposals for levies and bond issues for school purposes. These proposals are up for decision in six townships—Union, Concord, Green, Jefferson, Paint and Wayne—and in all of them considerable interest has been aroused.

There are only three contests for strictly county offices, but what the campaign may have lacked in numbers of contests on the county level has been made up by the high-gearred drive for votes on the national and state levels.

There are three candidates for the two vacant seats on the board of county commissioners. Two are Republicans, Ralph Minton, seeking reelection, and Robert Cockerill. One, Hazel Moyer, is a Democrat.

An odd sidelight on the campaign has been provided by the mock elections held in the city and the county high schools. In them, the students have gone right down the line for the Republican candidates with one exception—they did an about-face and gave strong support to Gov. Lausche.

Political observers say these mock elections are a good barometer for the regular election because they usually reflect the thinking of their voting parents. The ratio, incidentally, was about 60-40.

A heavier vote than usual is forecast for Madison Township, where the question has been raised on the sale of beer. There has not been much fanfare over it, but there has been plenty of quiet campaigning on both sides.

55 Million Across Nation Making Choice

Outcome Of See-Saw Battle In Doubt As Yanks Go To Polls

By The Associated Press

Voters got out early and in droves Tuesday to make their great decision between Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson as the 33rd man to become their President.

Across the nation, the story was the same almost everywhere: Voting so heavy election officials in state after state called it unprecedented. Many polling places had long lines from the opening.

It was plain a record total of ballots was going into the making of the verdict on the Republican argument that "it's time for a change" and the Democratic contention that Americans "never had it so good."

Some forecasters predicted 55-60 million ballots. The biggest vote cast in the past was 49,820,312 in 1940 when Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt defeated Republican Wendell Willkie.

Though the outward scene was similar everywhere, the big mystery was what was going on behind the curtains of the voting booth—did the big vote mean "a landslide for Ike" as Republicans hoped, or a "sweep for Stevenson" as Democrats wished?

THE RESULT may be known tonight or, if voting is extremely close, perhaps not until sometime Wednesday. The last of the polls to close, some on the West coast, will be open until 11 p. m. EST.

The weather is cooperating with the get-out-the-vote drive by remaining generally fair over most of the nation.

That was the weather bureau's latest election day forecast.

Only exceptions, the bureau said, may be snow flurries in Western Montana and showers in extreme Southern Florida, Northern New Mexico, Southern Colorado and coastal areas of Washington and Oregon.

The Republican call for a change involved not only an end to what the GOP labeled as Communism, corruption and inflation at home, but a review of the handling of the Korean war.

Against this, Stevenson pounded hard on the prosperity issue, painting a dark picture of possible depression if the Republicans win. He promised a cleanup in Washington, "merciless" prosecution of Communists found in government, flayed the GOP "Old Guard" as "isolationist" and said Eisenhower held out "false hopes" of a Korean settlement.

STEVENSON said he believed the Democratic Party should be continued in office because "it is the party of no one, because it is the party of everyone." He said he did not believe the country's economic well-being could be safely entrusted to the Republican Party.

The party of fear, inaction, boom and bust."

Eisenhower pledged to work for "a just and lasting peace secured by the strength of the free world." He said he is dedicated to "one supreme cause"—the winning of world peace in a struggle against "the menace of Godless Communism."

A GROUP of key states, including the three largest, New York, Illinois and California, apparently could swing the election either way. Besides the Big Three, which have 104 electoral votes, party strategists looked for a trend in Connecticut, eight votes; Massachusetts, 16; Michigan, 20; Ohio, 25; Pennsylvania, 32; Virginia, 12.

A definite trend for one candidate in these states would presage a landslide victory for him, in electoral votes, at least.

Such a trend also could affect the vital control of Congress needed by a new President to carry out his program. All 435 members of the House are being elected this year and 35 senators are being chosen. In state races, 29 governors are being selected. Maine already has elected a GOP governor, senator and three House members.

Although control of the House is expected to follow the presidential results, Democrats apparently have an edge in Senate contests which could keep them in command of that body if Eisenhower should win a close popular vote battle.

This Is The Day Little Guy Writes Part Of A Page In America's History

what happens, and America will be triumphant. He didn't kid himself.

Knowing how he had struggled within himself to find an answer that he could mark on his ballot, he felt other people must have been troubled in the same way. He was sure they were.

He could tell it by the way the fellows in the office kept talking politics, at lunch, when they slipped out for coffee in the afternoon. And when people came over to the house in the evening they talked politics.

The only kind of people who bothered him, and he had run into some of them, were those who had made up their minds before the campaign began and hadn't listened or done any thinking.

While he was old enough to know he had no monopoly on wisdom, he knew one thing:

It may be years before we can judge the wisdom of voters in this election. It may take years to see the full effects.

As he strode into the polling booth he felt, more than any other time in his memory, that he, by himself, marked on the ballot was truly important.

He felt, sincerely, that in marking those marks on a piece of paper he was helping write a page in history. He hoped the history would have a happy ending.

Belmont County Kids Like Adlai

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Nov. 4—Adlai E. Stevenson defeated Dwight D. Eisenhower 1,605 to 1,060 in a mock election at 11 high schools in Belmont County, the Good Government League announced Tuesday.

Belmont County has voted for the winning presidential candidate in every election since 1896. The school pupils gave big margins to the whole Democratic ticket.

Reserved Seats For Football Game Are Now On Sale

Reserved seats for the last WHS football game of the season today were on sale at Gillen's Drug Store.

Arthur Engle, the faculty manager, said tickets for about 300 reserved seats on the north side of the field would be available there until Friday afternoon—or until they are all taken up.

These are the only reserved seats left in Gardner Park. Virtually all the rest have gone to season ticket holders.

Inasmuch as this will be the last game of the season for the undefeated Lions of WHS, a record crowd is expected to turn out to see them tangle with their old rivals, the Tigers from Circleville.

It was the Circlevillians who knocked off another team of undefeated Lions and kept them out of the SOC championship—that was back in 1949.

Engle said 300 adult tickets and 300 student tickets had been sent Tuesday morning to Circleville in accordance with a request from school authorities there. Some of the adult tickets were reserved seats and some were general admission.

A sizeable delegation of Circleville fans is expected to accompany the Tigers here for the season's finale Friday night.

Businessmen Eye Makeup Of Next Congress

President Important, But Solons To Shape Financial Picture

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—What's going to happen to business if Gov. Adlai Stevenson wins? If Gen. Dwight Eisenhower wins?

Businessmen are vitally interested in which one will be in the White House next year.

But a lot of businessmen say they are even more anxious to know the makeup of the next Congress—not only which party will have a majority in each house, but more important what coalitions can be formed among blocks within parties to vote on the questions in which business has the greatest stake.

These questions are: Taxes, tariff policy, defense spending, foreign aid, conduct of the Cold War and the hot one in Korea, farm price parity, treasury deficits and chances of balancing the budget, and measures which the government might take which could give prices another upward whirl or steps it might take to counteract a slump if one develops later on.

THOSE WHO think the congressional contests hold even more immediate meaning for business than does the presidential race argue this way:

The course the nation is taking, defense-spending, taxes, and the like, has such momentum now that it would be months before either the general or the governor could do much by himself to change it.

The real changes, if any, will come much later these businessmen argue and will stem from what Congress does.

Take defense spending. Money already appropriated but not yet spent will keep the defense build-up program going through next year.

And few think that the next administration will or can trim it, or boost it, very much—at least not in time for it to affect business much next year.

In the case of taxes: The excess profits tax is due to die next June unless Congress extends it. Other tax changes which the new Congress might make probably won't affect business much until 1954.

Inflation: Many businessmen believe that inflation is now on its last legs and is due to expire sometime next year. They feel that the big buildup in industrial capacity means sharper competition with prices held down and perhaps forced lower.

Inflation could be revived, they argue, only by congressional fiscal policies, more government spending, a larger treasury deficit, or by a spreading of the Korean war. And the big budget bills are rarely passed before June.

Flag Pole At NCR Gets Coat Of Paint

The flag pole at the National Cash Register Co. plant here today is bright and shiny in its new coat of black enamel paint and the big 12-inch ball or knob on the top of the pole is bright with its new coat of 14-karat gold paint.

Billy Monroe, who used to live in Washington C. H., was the steeplejack who did the job. He finished the enameling at about 9 A. M. Monday, but had to go back in the afternoon to give the ball on top of the pole its coat of gold paint.

He also brought a new lanyard for running the flag up in the morning and down in the evening with him to equip the pole.

Monroe has been a steeplejack for 13 years he said. A farmer boy by birth, he lived here until he went into the merchant marine during the war. Since then he has been living in Dayton.

The flag pole at the NCR, he said, is redecorated for looks and as a preservative, every four years.

It was a most informative message explaining how every thinking American should constructively combat subversive organizations so that we may survive as a United States worthy of our glorious heritage of freedom.

At the conclusion of Miss Case's talk, Mrs. McCoy Gardner, Chapter Defense Chairman, made brief remarks urging that everyone exercise their American heritage to vote.

Mrs. Hynes requested members to turn in their sales tax stamps to Miss Vera Veal, and also reminded members of their dues now payable.

Lions Still Fourth in State And Smith Is Leading Scorer

Although the Lions of WHS swamped the Bexley Lions under a 32 to 0 score last Friday night, they were still in fourth place in the Associated Press poll rating of Ohio high school teams.

And, in spite of that decisive win, they dropped one first place vote and 37 points in the total score. Last week, the Lions received 5 first place votes and 226 points picked up on second, third, fourth, etc. votes (10, 9, 8, 7 etc.). This week they received only 4 first place votes and their total points dropped to 189.

Massillon is far in front as the No. 1 team in the poll.

But, the Lions were put in the spotlight by Carl Smith, the hard-hitting halfback. Last week Smith held the individual scoring lead by one point. Now he is out in front, 12 points ahead of Hubie Bobo of Chauncey-Dover, last year's scoring champion.

Smith Leads Scorers And Massillon Top Team

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—(P)—Carl Smith, Washington C. H.'s talented one-man football team, this week stood head-and-shoulders above all others in the race for top Ohio scoring honors.

Scoring 25 points against Bexley last week, he now has a total of 264. Hubie Bobo, Chauncey-Dover flash who was the 1951 leader with 271 points, is the current second-placer with 232.

Bobo scored 14 points against Oak Hill last week. Smith ends his high school career Friday when he leads his Blue Lions against arch-

Native-Born Yankees Slow To Turn 'Red'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(P)—J. Edgar Hoover says that native-born Americans in general don't go for Communism and he offered some statistics to prove it.

The FBI director says his bureau recently reviewed the origins of 5,395 leading members of the Communist Party in the United States, and came up with these findings:

1. Only 411 were Negroes, "strong evidence that the American Negro is not being hoodwinked by these false messiahs."

2. Of the remaining 4,984 leaders, all white, 4,555 or 91½ per cent were foreign-born or had strong alien ties—marriage to a foreigner or foreign parentage.

3. More than half of the top American Reds have their origins in Russia and her satellites.

Hoover said he is frequently asked "how can Americans be such dupes" as to embrace Communism. He said:

"First of all, American Communists are not real Americans. They have become fanatic converts to Communism and have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage."

"Communism's greatest appeal is to some of the foreign-born and their offspring, although their propaganda does not flourish among the great majority of foreign-born who come to America seeking freedom and opportunity."

Fish Story Cut Down To Size

EASTBOURNE, England, Nov. 4.—(P)—One fish story, about the man who flung a boat anchor into the sea and hooked a two-ton whale, has been cut down to size.

First, an expert from the British Museum came along and said the monster Vivian Gell and his friends dragged in wasn't a whale at all. It was a 14-foot basking shark. Then, before Gell could collect $28 that an animal dealer offered for the catch, hundreds of sightseers hacked the fish to pieces and carried it away for dog and cat food.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W
A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
